1. Communicate respectfully and listen actively to each other without interrupting or making assumptions. Members should avoid using offensive language, personal attacks, or making judgments.
2. Keep everything discussed in the group confidential, except in situations where someone's safety is at risk.
3. Everyone is encouraged to participate but no one is obligated to share anything they are not comfortable disclosing.
4. Respect each other's differences and be open to learning from one another.
5. Agree to disagree respectfully and acknowledge that everyone is entitled to their opinions.
6. Do your best to find a good internet connection and use a reliable device for Zoom.
7. Minimize distractions by finding a quiet, private location.
8. Keep the microphone muted when not speaking. Your microphone may be muted by the facilitator if an attendee does not mute themselves.
9. Raise your hand to share and respond once called upon by the facilitator.
